

Ladies' Column.

IS IT NOT STRANGE?

Is it not strange we two should stand together
As once we stood in sorrow and in tears—
Our larkens all shattered with the stormy weather,
Now safely moored after so many years?
Is it not strange the full moon should be lending
Her beams to light again the selfsame spot
Where once we stood in ecstasy transcending,
And breathed the vows that neither hath forgot?
Is it not strange that, parted by an ocean,
And long, long years of bitter wrong and pain,
Both, guided by a wonderful devotion,
Should meet within each other's arms again?
Is it not strange to feel the new sensation
Of heart to heart and lip to lip once more,
Remembering the icy desolation
That chilled us when we parted here before?
Is it not strange that we, so long divided,
Together shall grow gray beside one hearth—
Together through the evening shades be guided,
And laid together in one spot of earth?

Webster Matched by a Woman.

In the somewhat famous case of Mrs. Bogden's will which was tried in the Supreme Court some years ago, Mr. Webster appeared as counsel for the appellant, Mrs. Greenough, wife of Rev. Wm. Greenough, late of West Newton, a tall, straight, quietly looking woman with a keen black eye—a woman of great self-possession and decision of character, was called to the stand as a witness on the opposite side from Mr. Webster. Webster, at a glance had the sagacity to foresee that her testimony, if it contained anything of importance, would have great weight with the court and jury; he therefore resolved, if possible, to break her up. And when she answered to the first question put to her, "I believe," Webster roared out, "We don't want to hear what you believe; we want to hear what you know." Mrs. Greenough replied, "That is just what I was about to say, sir," and went on with her testimony.

And notwithstanding his repeated efforts to disconcert her, she pursued the even tenor of her way, until Webster, becoming quite fearful of the result, arose apparently in great agitation, and drawing out his large snuff-box thrust his thumb and finger to the very bottom, and carrying the deep pinch to both nostrils, drew it up with a gusto; and then extracting from his pocket a very large handkerchief, which flowed to his feet as he brought it to the front, he blew his nose with a report that rang distinct and loud through the crowded hall. Webster—Mrs. Greenough, was Mrs. Bogden a neat woman?

Mrs. Greenough—"I cannot give you very full information as to that sir; she had one very dirty trick."
Webster—"What's that, madam?"
Mrs. Greenough—"She took snuff."
The roar of the court-house was such that the future defender of the Constitution subsided, and neither rose nor spoke again until after Mrs. Greenough had vacated her chair for another witness—having ample time to reflect on the inglorious history of the man who had a stone thrown on his head by a woman.

The Bloom of Age.

A good woman never grows old. Years may pass over her head, but if benevolence and virtue dwell in her heart, she is as cheerful as when the spring of life first opened to her view. When we look upon a good woman, we never think of her age; she looks as charming as when the rose of youth first bloomed on her cheek. That rose has not faded yet; it will never fade. In her neighborhood, she is the friend and benefactor. In the church, she is the devoted worshipper and the exemplary Christian. Who does not respect and love the woman who has passed her days in acts of kindness and mercy—who has been the friend of man and God—whose whole life has been a scene of kindness and love, a devotion to truth and religion? We repeat, such a woman cannot grow old. She will always be fresh and buoyant in spirits, and active in humble deeds of mercy and benevolence. If the young lady desires to retain the bloom and beauty of youth, let her not yield to the sway of fashion and folly; let her love truth and virtue; and to the close of life she will retain those feelings which now make life appear a garden ever fresh and ever new.

"BEAUTY SLEEP."—Sleep obtained two hours before midnight, when the negative forces are in operation, is the rest which most recuperates the system, giving brightness to the eye and a glow to the cheek. The difference between the appearance of a person who habitually retires at ten o'clock and that of one who sits up until twelve is quite remarkable. The tone of the system, so evident in the complexion, the clearness and sparkle of the eye, and the softness of the lines of the features are, in a person of health, kept at "concert pitch" by taking regular rest two hours before twelve o'clock, and thereby obtaining the "beauty sleep" of the night. There is a heaviness of the eye, a sallowness of skin, and absence of that glow in the face which renders it fresh in expression and round in appearance, that readily distinguishes the person who keeps late hours.

Be kind to the old.—Be kind those who are in the autumn of life, for thou knowest not what sufferings they may have endured, or how much it may still be their portion to bear. Are they querulous or unreasonable? allow not thy anger to kindle against them—rebuke them not, for, doubtless many and severe have been their crosses and trials of earlier years; and perchance, their disposition while in the spring-time of life were more gentle than thine own. Do they require aid of thee? then render it cheerfully, and forget not that the time may come when thou mayest desire the same assistance from others that thou now renderest to them.

These Pianos, the manufacture of which was commenced in 1834, are all strictly first-class, of the full 7 1/2 octave scale, granite throughout, of great power and sweetness of tone, and sell out very cheap. Piano made within the past year we have taken in exchange "Stodart" Pianos from 15 to 30 years of age.

Our prices are lower than those of any other first-class manufacturers, and yet we make no "cheap" work. We are not to receive an order to make a Square Piano for the sum of $5,000, we could turn out no better instrument, than our ordinary $500 Piano, but the excess would have to be expended on outward ornamentation. All our Pianos have Rosewood Cases, Carved legs, type and desk.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protozide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reactions, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass. Pamphlets Free.
